

Press Release

On the 14th and 15th of March 2020, the ENTELIS+ consortium organised the project kick-off meeting in Brussels. All project managers from the respected consortium partners joined the meeting. On the day 1, work package leaders shared their plan on the implementation of the tasks and relevant intellectual outputs and deliverables. On the following day, the consortium discussed about the financial and management aspects of the project.

Building on the outcomes of the ENTELIS and IE+ projects, the ENTELIS+ project aims at developing and implementing innovative methods and practices to foster inclusive education and promote common values, as well as enhancing the digital skills and competences of digitally excluded groups, particularly persons with disabilities of all ages, through strategic public and private partnerships.

The ENTELIS+ project aims at having an impact on three levels:

- Raising awareness about the importance of accessibility as an enabler for inclusive learning and teaching.
- Developing the digital skills of persons with disabilities and older persons so that they can participate in the digital society.
- Enhancing the capacity of the key actors in charge of the design and implementation of facilitating frameworks.
